Deficits are Piling Up

The financial statement of the provincial treasurer for this fiscal year ending March 31 last reveals a most serious situation. It announces a deficit of $5,153,060, as against a deficit of $2,306,581 for the previous fiscal year, 1930-31. To this must be added a deficit of $389,415 for the first six months of the present fiscal year.

This is piling up undoubtedly an appalling rate during a period when the ability of taxpayers to carry the taxation burden is seriously impaired through the depression. Unless there is a radical change in financial administration at Edmonton immediately, the province will soon find itself insolvent. Taxpayers may well ask themselves how long this heaping up of deficits is to continue, all they include the farmers who keep the present government in power. They are among the ones who will suffer most.

The enormous deficit of the past fiscal year is explained by the provincial treasurer as due to a shrinkage in revenue of nearly five millions due to "abnormal conditions." Abnormality was apparent to everyone but members of the government in February 1931, when in the budget speech it was estimated a high mark of $18,441,487 in revenue would be established during the year ending March 31 last. At the same time expenditures were planned on the same lavish, good-time scale. They had been estimated at $18,326,798 but were cut to $18,645,481, a policy decision of $183,317. These figures are illuminative of cabinet mentality.

In attempting to sugar a bitter pill, the provincial treasurer says of last year's deficit: "The return of normal conditions should, with existing taxation structure of the province, enable Alberta to face the future with confidence." He has no knowledge of how long the present abnormal conditions will continue. Certainly it will be several years before the taxpayers of the province recover the financial ability they possessed in 1929 because of steady dissipation of their resources in the meantime. It is apparent that the burden of taxation is already too great in the province and that the government will have to consider steps to lighten it.

A statement issued by the national committee on economy in public finance of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce a few days ago declared that while public expenditure had gone on steadily increasing in Canada up to the year 1929, there had been in the last three years a sudden and very great decline in the ability of people to pay taxes. And by the imposition of the income tax and other new imposts had been reached the Alberta Government has about reached the maximum in taxation levying. The excessive decline in the provincial revenue has left the province in a position where it is unable to pay its debts. This will happen this year and next along the same line. All classes of people in Alberta are feeling the burden of taxation, and the only way out is for the government to inaugurate severe retrenchment. Otherwise insolvency is not far ahead, and no sophistries of Mr. Reid can disguise that unpleasant fact.

Mirror News

The funeral of the late Richard Warren Barritt, who passed away at the Lacombe hospital on Wednesday evening following a serious operation, took place on Friday, November 18th, after the arrival of the C.P.R. train from the west. The body was conveyed to the United Church where Rev. Upton conducted the service and interment was made in the Alis cemetery.

Deceased was a member of a pioneer family, coming to our district from Kansas in 1901 and has ever since been engaged in farming. At the time of death he was 53 years of age.

Whence Come the Chinooks

The thermometer registers 10 below zero. The sky is overcast with heavy clouds and Albertans shiver as they make slow progress through a blinding snowstorm.

So suddenly, that it seems miraculous, a warm wind comes up from the west, blowing the clouds eastward. All across the province on the western horizon. It is the Chinook.

Within a few hours the temperature rises to above freezing point. Snow melts and streets are running with water. If the wind does not shift to the north and the mild westerly winds prevail, almost summery climate takes the place of a rigorous cold, sometimes lasting several days.

Alberta old timers will recall that there have been occasions when chinook winds have come up, as if by magic, during an intense cold spell. Under these conditions a person walking in a westerly direction will feel a wind which seems like a hot, dry blast.

Named after the Chinook Indians, a tribe which formerly lived in the southwest corner of the State of Washington, two types of chinook winds mellow the winter climate of Alberta, Montana, Wyoming, Oregon, Washington and parts of British Columbia.

Warmed by the Japanese current which follows part of the coast of British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, the moist chinook wind passes over the valleys of British Columbia, and descends on the Rocky Mountain passes. Nearly all the moisture has been extracted during passage of the wind over the mountain tops. In coming down the mountains the pressure due to the lower altitude, squeezes out the moisture and raises the temperature at the rate of one degree for every 183 feet.

Hence in coming down from an altitude of 5560 feet the wind would be 30 degrees warmer at the bottom than at the top.

The warm dry wind spreads out over a large surface and absorbs or melts the snow, making conditions grazing possible all winter. Thus it is, that cattle raising has become one of the most important industries of Alberta and ranches in the southern part of the province are world famous.

The "wet chinook" is a moist, warm wind blowing southwesterly on the Pacific coast of British Columbia, Oregon, and Washington and is often confused with the dry chinook. It is entirely different and was supposed to come from the country of the Chinook Indians, hence the name.

A similar wind to the dry chinook which mellow the climate of Alberta, is called the "fohn" in Switzerland. A somewhat similar wind also prevails at times, in parts of New Zealand.

In summer the chinook winds are a mixed blessing. The effects are contrary to that in winter. When the temperature is hovering around 90 degrees in the shade, the chinook winds, comparatively, cool force the mercury downward, just as in winter it forces it upward. This it is eagerly welcomed, at least, by city dwellers. Farmers, however, are not generally so pleased. The dry wind absorbs moisture from the land and, occasionally, chinook winds seriously affect chances of good grain crops. A prolonged chinook wind in winter, occasionally, has another disadvantage. Ice may melt rapidly on rivers and create flood conditions. Usually, however, the effect of the chinook is not of long enough duration to create serious trouble in this respect.

All in all, the advantages of the chinook winds far outweigh the disadvantages. Dispelling torrid heat waves in summer and below zero periods in winter, the influence of these winds has a tendency to prevent extremes in weather conditions and makes it possible for residents of Alberta to be proud of the climatic conditions.

The beneficial effect of the chinook winds was felt throughout the province this week. The cold wave of the previous week gave way to balmy winds which quickly caused most of the snow to disappear and raised the temperature many degrees.

Wherever Alberta is in the grip of a cold wave, citizens look hopefully towards the western sky and the first sign of the chinook arch formation is a source of gratification.

Trade Pacts Pass House

Ottawa—With Conservative cheers echoing down the corridors, the House of Commons gave third reading today to the trade treaties by Canada at the Imperial Conference.

In a series of divisions, the government had majorities ranging from 41 to 89 when one of the final seals of Parliamentary approval was attached to the treaties with the United Kingdom, the Irish Free State, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia.

Galleries were filled, an air of subdued excitement pervading the large square chamber when the end of the six weeks of debate drew near. The first of the divisions took place shortly after the House opened in the afternoon, the last after the dinner recess.

With the first division came the first surprise. Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King and most of his Liberal supporters voted for the Rhodesian treaty, rolling up a majority of 89.

Conservatives cast derisive laughter across the floor as Liberal after Liberal voted for the Rhodesian agreement. But their comments bore more sarcasm and their laughter became more uproarious when the next vote was called.

It was the treaty with the Irish Free State and it produced some that delighted the Conservatives. The Liberal leader first announced he would support the treaty, then

DEATH OF BAXTER McLEAN

Baxter McLean, well known and highly respected farmer of this community, dropped dead at his home on Saturday afternoon last, death being due to heart failure. Deceased had been ploughing green feed in the morning, and on coming in at noon complained of feeling unwell. Mrs. McLean started to get something to relieve him, when he fell to the floor, and passed away before medical aid could be summoned. Before Mr. McLean settled here, he resided in B.C. and in Edmonton, where for several years he conducted a contracting business. The funeral was held on Monday. Mrs. McLean has the sympathy of her many friends in her bereavement.

Clive News

One of the best Anniversary nights in the history of Clive Hall was held on Friday night last. A large crowd attended the card party and the dance afterwards was well attended. Although the weather was not warm, a large number of people came many miles to attend the dance. The Lacombe Star Orchestra supplied the music which was greatly enjoyed, and one of the features of the evening was the dancing of Miss Margaret Woody, who danced and sang during the intermission. The hall management were greatly pleased with the successful evening, and the Community Hall fund was enlarged considerably.

Christmas, Trans-Atlantic Style

Christmas, whether it be ashore or afloat, as a season, looks almost largely on the horizon of Steamship Companies as on that of Santa Claus himself. Schedules must be altered in advance for those who want to cross the Atlantic for Christmas in either direction, and above all, copies of the sailing lists have to be sent to the old Saint in time for him to plan his visit to the ships at sea. This year, from the Canadian side the Canadian Pacific line "Duchess of Athol" sails from Saint John December 15th, thus giving her passengers a chance to arrive in the Old Country in time to hear the Waits and Carol Singers on Christmas Eve.

WHAT INFLATION OF CURRENCY MEANS

In 1779, General George Washington wrote, "A wagonload of money will scarcely purchase a wagonload of provisions." His point can easily be understood when one looks at the following prices in a bill rendered to Captain Alan McLane, by W. Nicholas, a tradesman. For one pair of boots, the cost was $600. Four handkerchiefs, at $100 each, were $400. Six yards of chintz were $900, and a small skin of silk came to $10.

A contemporary historian states that the barber shops of the period were papered with the almost useless paper money, and that even the poor people used plumes of money as decorations in their hats. Mock funerals were held, with paper money taking the corpse's place. Even a dog was "tarred and feathered" with molasses and money!

The expense of construction work reached the zenith, for General Gates was required to pay $500 per yard for a hundred yard length of fence around a prison compound. A year later (1780), Tom Paine bought a pair of stockings, and shelled out just $300 cash for them. Thomas Jefferson paid $55.50 more than that for three quarts of brandy.

FARM BOARD PLAN FAILS IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, Nov. 25—Because Alberta farmers are still taking an advantage of the Federal government's boarding-out scheme for unemployed men that was never intended, the scheme is not being put into operation in this province it was stated Thursday by A. A. MacKenzie, chairman of the special relief commission. The difficulty has arisen from farmers dismissing help when they

INCREASE IN BIG GAME

Alberta big game areas are experiencing a considerable increase in big game this season, according to reports coming in from hunting parties. One party of Americans, on a 30 day trip, in the Athabasca areas west of Edmonton, reported having killed 700 caribou and over 200 moose, as well as other big game in plenty. In one day's travel they saw 46 moose, 35 caribou, 8 deer and 3 mountain rams. In the Bruceau area south-west of Jasper National Park, reports come in of large numbers of elk.

Lacombe's New Flour Mill

The new Flour Mill in now running full speed and farmers of the district are realizing the great benefit the mill is to them. Although at a time like this, all business is comparatively slow, Mr. North has confidence in Lacombe, and therefore he chose Lacombe as a desirable location for his modern plant.

Some five or six years ago, the old Lacombe Flour Mill was burned to the ground and it was necessary for farmers of the district to haul their grain many miles, to have it ground into flour. Now, with a mill right here, your flour is there when you want it, and there is no long haul. Flour made at the Lacombe mill is of the highest quality and is recommended by all who have tried it. A well known fact is that high grade wheat makes high grade flour, and as the Lacombe district is noted for its high quality wheat, the flour produced here should be the best in the province.

The Lacombe mill is offering a prize of a 100 lb. sack of flour to the person sending in the most appropriate name for the flour produced at this mill. Each person is entitled to submit three names. On December 23rd the winner will be announced, and the person sending in the winning name will receive the flour on Christmas. Try your luck—there is no catch in this offer whatsoever—no expense. Just write your choice on a slip of paper, sign your name and mail the letter to The Lacombe Milling Co. Your suggestion might be the winning one.

Relief Presents Big Problem

The federal minister of labor announced a few days ago that there were 800,000 men, women and children on relief in Canada at the present time. These include 144,000 persons who were out of work in prosperous times and may be classified as permanently unemployed. The number also includes 140,000 transients of whom one-half are new arrivals in Canada.

Coming nearer home, there are more than 2,300 families receiving relief aid in Calgary, and over 3,000 single unemployed receiving free meals and sleeping accommodation under an arrangement entered into not long ago by the provincial and federal governments. Approximately the same number of single men are being looked after in Edmonton. The small cities have their own quotas and in the unorganized districts the matter of relief is in the hands of the Mounted Police.

It is obvious to everyone that this army of single men will have to be looked after in Alberta this winter. Many of them come from the eastern provinces and British Columbia, but the ban on riding the roads has prevented their returning to their homes on completion of harvesting. They were allowed to travel on freight trains coming into the prairie provinces but denied the privilege to get out again.

The Alberta cities are no longer financially concerned in providing relief for the large number of transients, but nevertheless their citizens must undergo the discomfort of seeing daily so many men out of work. Little help is being made in the opening of work camps and the Alberta Government, two years ago, in deciding the plan to provide work on farms under government subsidy. The time to put the scheme into effect was when the men were still on the farms. Having tasted the care-free existence of being on relief in cities where everything found they will not be eager to return to the more lonely existence on rural homesteads or to work camps either. It is all in a piece with the inefficiency and lack of initiative that have marked the handling by all governments of the unemployment relief situation. —Calgary Herald

Large Districts Not Favored

To the Editor:—

I read the editorial from the Calgary Herald of November 19, in which it strongly censured the action of the municipal delegates in opposing the proposed scheme of enlarging the municipal units. It also advised the Brownie government to pass the legislation, in spite of the opposition of the people concerned.

Apparently the Herald must have some inside information which was not disclosed by the government to the municipalities concerned, or otherwise it must consider that the rural municipalities are not in a position to understand or handle their affairs to the best advantage.

The government has been compiling and preparing information on this matter since about 1925. None of this work has been lost by the action of the Association of Municipal Districts. As a matter of fact, the information printed in the handbook of the municipal convention was very vague and at no time was it definite. The government ministers in their speeches admitted that the rural municipalities were in the best condition of any form of government, whether rural, provincial or dominion.

The government has not indicated that it would forego the supplement any revenue tax, but it has made a half-hearted promise in that direction. It has not indicated up to the present time that it would continue to take care of the construction of bridges, or that it would continue its grant to municipal districts for market road purposes, for that it would continue the grants to rural schools, or to what extent it would maintain trunk roads through the larger units.

The government figures as to the amount of this saving is open to question. Undoubtedly if the scheme were put into effect, while it would be a saving to the provincial government it would increase the burden of the rural taxpayers, because they would be called upon to assume the burden which heretofore the province carried. It would also create a large permanent staff of paid employees, such as secretaries, assistant secretaries, stenographers, road engineers, assessors, with possibly bailiffs and sheriffs.

Also the proposed disorganization of the village, and bringing them under the control of the larger units would in many cases work a hardship on all concerned, and in some instances would, by the increased voting power, place control of the larger units in the hands of small property owners.

If the government is so sincere in this matter, let it organize one such large unit, operate it for ten years, and if it is so successful as they claim it will be, then organize the province into the larger units.

Yours truly, DAVID NELSON, Cluny, Alberta.

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND

"Fresh from the Gardens"

Strength and Courage.

Can we do better this week, following so soon after the observance of Remembrance Day, than reproduce in this column an editorial from the National Home Weekly, published in Winnipeg? We think not. So here it is: Gradually it is becoming clear to the minds of most people that conditions today are far more serious than they were during the years of the War. For then, men were buoyed up by hope. They knew that in time their troubles would be over. But no one can tell when this present misfortune will end. The mist of yesterday has become the dense black cloud of today. With many, despair has supplanted the strength from courage.

It will not be out of place, then, to recall the words and deeds that during the War inspired hope and urged steadfastness. Of all the written messages there was perhaps nothing finer than the address of General Currie to the Canadian army on the eve of the great advance in March, 1918. In it he makes clear the seriousness of the struggle and the danger of defeat; he indicates the successes already won, and states the need of the moment. Finally he speaks of the reward of victory. The message will be read again with vivid recollections by those who were in the ranks in 1918. May all who read it now for the first time feel that it is equally appropriate today. The problems to be solved, the forces to be overcome, are just as real and as great, and the virtues of constancy, courage and self-sacrifice are just as necessary.

SPECIAL ORDER, March 27th, 1918.—"In an endeavour to reach an immediate decision the enemy has gathered all his forces and struck a mighty blow at the British Army. Overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers the British Divisions in the line between Scarpe and Oise have fallen back fighting hard, steady and undaunted."

"Measures have been taken successfully to meet this German onslaught. The French have gathered a powerful army, commanded by a most able and trusted leader, and this army is now moving to our help. Fresh British Divisions are now being brought in. The Canadians are soon to be engaged. Our Motor Machine-Gun Brigade has already played a most gallant part and once again covered itself with glory."

"Looking back with pride on the unbroken record of your glorious achievements, asking you to realize that today the fate of the British Empire hangs in the balance, I place my trust in the Canadian soldier."

"Under the orders of your devoted officers in the coming battle you will advance or fall where you stand facing the enemy."

"To those who will fall I say, 'You will not die but step into immortality. Your mothers will not lament your fate but will be proud to have borne such sons. Your names will be revered forever and ever by your grateful country, and God will take you into His arms.'"

"Canadians, in this fateful hour, I command you and I trust you to fight as you have ever fought with all your strength, with all your determination, with all your tranquil courage. On many a hard-fought field of battle you have overcome this enemy. With God's help you shall achieve victory once more."

The seriousness of conditions today may be observed in both national and international affairs. At home trade is languishing, the army of the unemployed is increasing, and worst of all young people just entering manhood and womanhood are being deprived of the opportunity to earn a living or to form life associations or to contribute to good citizenship. The result is a growing feeling of discontent. Each individual is inclined to blame all others for prevailing misfortunes.

Internationally the problem is even more acute. Debtor countries are refusing to pay, because they feel that they have been unjustly treated, or because they no longer have world-cash to meet the demand. Nor will tariff barriers permit permits for the export of goods which are the lifeblood of the nation's industry. As for over-crowded states there is no territory available for the surplus population. All of these things mean for the spread of those national hatreds which are one of the causes of war. If quarrelling is easily possible when people are prosperous and inclined to be neighborly, it is almost certain to occur in violent form when they lose confidence in each other, and when extreme distress prevails.

The only way to avert disaster is the way of unselfishness and self-sacrifice. It is true today as of old that regardless of race, color or creed man is his brother's keeper. It is true now as two thousand years ago that men shall find their lives in losing them. The victories of peace are as glorious and as costly as the victories of war.

Driven by the light of hope, men are to transform a world. The channels of trade will be thrown open, waste areas will be populated, armaments will be cast away, production and consumption will find a balance. Within this state of affairs the world will be measurably equal for all. The man at the machine will be of more value than the machine's production, the needs of the many shall be of more account than the needs of the rich, the needs of the poor, the needs of the land shall not favor the designs of the privileged class, and each man, recognizing that his neighbor has rights equal to his own, shall honor justice and practice righteousness. This is peace may it be the spirit of General Currie's men may it be the spirit of the Canadian people, and as nobly self-sacrificing as they were in 1918. May they hear again the words, "Canadians, in this fateful hour, I command you, I trust you to fight as you have ever fought with all your strength, with all your determination, with all your tranquil courage. . . . With God's help you shall achieve victory once more."

Japs Are Apt Pupils

Learned In World War To Kill Instead Of Taking Prisoners

If you don't take prisoners in a war, you don't have to feed them and care for them. The dead enemies can be buried on the battlefield where they died, and they will not cause any more trouble or annoyance.

This is the principle on which the Japanese were fighting the Chinese in Manchuria. They captured swords, rifles, spears and things material, but not prisoners. An enemy soldier is killed off.

There's nothing particularly new about that sort of thing. Even the World War, which some pious people said was fought as civilized nations fight, had moments when prisoners were neither desired nor taken. The Christian nations gave place to heathen Orientals some pointers in how to fight wars and the Japanese proved apt pupils. Their policy of taking no prisoners in Manchuria shows they know what to do when the cost and trouble of feeding prisoners of war causes annoyance.—Border Cities Star.

Old Country People Drinking Goat's Milk

More Easily Digested and Free From Tuberculosis Germs

The people of the United Kingdom are drinking more goat's milk. Twenty years ago the production was 2,000,000 gallons a year. Six years ago it had increased to 12,000,000 gallons. Today it has reached the high figure of 20,000,000 gallons (declares the Sunday Express). And these are the reasons:

Goat's milk is more easily digested than cow's milk; it is richer in butter-fat; it is free from tuberculosis germs; and women have found that it will make their skins more beautiful. They have learned that "blossom" complexion can be acquired simply by bathing the face, neck, and arms two or three times a day with goat's milk.

Penalty Of Excess Fat

Although she has lost but 7 lbs. of her overweight, this woman finds that she has learned a valuable lesson. The stairs made her gasp for breath. There can certainly be nothing wrong with a reducing treatment that causes such increased energy and vigor.

Her letter reads:—"I am 63 years old and my height is 5 ft. Last year I weighed 154 lbs. For six months I have been taking a half-teaspoon ul of Kruschen Salts, making no change in my diet. Now I weigh 147 lbs. round the hips, and only weigh 147 lbs. dressed. But I feel lighter and can now run upstairs, where before I could not make one step for breath. Everyone says now well and fit look, as I am in a store and get no walking exercise at all. The results may not be startling, but the fact remains that I feel much better than of late years—not so heavy—and I now enjoy dancing!"

Kruschen is based on scientific principle—it's an ideal blend of 6 separate minerals which help glands, nerves, blood and body organs to function properly, and thus maintain a splendid degree of health—it builds up energy and strength all the while you're training yourself down to a point of normal weight.

Equality Of Punishment
System Now In Use Could Be Vastly Improved
A fine is a most effective way of registering social disapproval and for this reason will probably continue to be a long time as a part of our penal system. But who can defend a system which for similar offences fines the wealthy and imprisons the poor? A scientific system of fines which had some relation to the capacity of the individual to pay would probably result in a considerable reduction of the number of criminals for non-payment.—New Statesman and Nation.

Landlords Would Be Protected

Quebec May Grant Them Priority Of Lien On Installment Goods

A bill that would give to landlords priority of lien on goods bought by installment, instead of the merchants who sell them, will be presented at the next session of the Quebec legislature. It is announced by Hon. Gaudry, secretary of the Property Owners' League of Montreal. Such a measure, Mr. Gaudry explained, would provide landlords with further protection against tenants who went beyond their means in the purchase of long-period-to-pay goods.

Latest Flying Invention

Newest "Plane" Can Be Controlled By One Finger

An aeroplane which can be flown, manoeuvred, and landed with one finger is the latest flying invention. The machine is of the autogyro type, "windmill" type and is being built under license near Glasgow.

There is only one control for all movements of the machine. Apart from the operation of opening and closing the blades, the whole control of the craft literally can be done with one finger.

Perfian Balm—there is nothing like it for creating and preserving a lovely complexion. Cooling, cleansing, it soothes and dispels all roughness of the face caused by weather conditions. Delicately fragrant, it adds exquisite charm to the most finished appearance. Dainty women inevitably choose Perfian Balm. A velvety smooth skin, it makes the skin rosy and in texture. Recommended also to soften and whiten the hands. Truly a perfect toilet requisite for every woman.

Obnoxious Billboards
Often Distract Driver's Attention From Important Traffic Directions
There are two counts against the billboard on the highway. It not only mars the landscape and destroys the natural beauty of roadside scenery, but the advertisements also distract the attention of the driver of the car. Important traffic directions posted along the road are often lost in a welter of commercial signs. In the interests of safety the most conspicuous signs on the highway should be those placed there by the highway department to direct traffic.

An Oil That Is Famous—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far ahead enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

Only Motor Car Owner Can Collect Damages For Accident
Members of the family of an insured motor car owner are not persons insured within the meaning of the British Columbia Act. The judicial committee of the Privy Council dismissed the appeal of Alice Marie Vandepitte, of Vancouver, from a judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, which had held M. Vandepitte was not entitled to judgment for $5,000 accident damages against the Preferred Accident Insurance Company of New York. A daughter of R. E. Berry, the insured owner, was driving the car at the time of the accident.

The Pool Of Peace
Official Name Given Mine Crater On Western Front
One of the largest mine craters formed on the western front during the World War has just been officially named "The Pool Of Peace." It is three miles from Ypres on the Meuse road, and has a diameter of 140 yards. In making it 40 tons of explosives were used, and 8,000 yards of galleries were dug. The explosion was heard in London. British soldiers knew it as "Lone Tree Crater," and since the war it has slowly filled with water.

Prove Courage Can Overcome Handicaps

Two Afflicted Men Make Good Under Fearful Odds

A unique conference took place at Vancouver recently during the Amputation Club convention, between a man who is deaf, dumb and blind, and another who is without hands or feet. Charlie Crane was the deaf, dumb and blind man. Infantile paralysis robbed him of his faculties of hearing, speaking and seeing when he was a child; but courage, energy and a fine mental equipment have enabled him to pass a special course at the University of British Columbia, become an athlete of considerable prowess and a gifted writer. Not long ago he was appointed as special publicity writer for the National Institute for the Blind, and in addition he writes a weekly column for a Vancouver newspaper devoted chiefly to community welfare organization affairs. He uses an interpreter in conversation and he taps his interpreter's palms as a telegrapher would tap his transmitter. He is an adept at using the typewriter.

Curly Christian is the armless and legless one. He went overseas with the 78th Battalion, a Winnipeg unit. He was blown up and lay buried in the ground for more than a day, only his head exposed. When he was rescued and brought back to his home, four limbs had to be amputated. He is well known in Toronto and other eastern cities for his amazing accomplishments despite hand-arms-which would have frustrated most men.

The Value Of Science

Average Person Does Not Appreciate Importance Of Research

Professor W. J. Dakin, Professor of Zoology at the Sydney University, Australia, in a recent talk on "Pasture and some of the earliest pioneers of the microscope," emphasized that Pasteur was a chemist, not a medical man. Pasteur's experiment with the anthrax germ, he said, was practically the beginning of a new era in medicine. It led to the saving of hundreds of thousands of men from diphtheria, and to the saving of thousands of lives in the Great War. He went on to say that it was a new conception of the cause of disease, and led to all kinds of researches for the alleviation of human suffering. "We should be nearer to victory over some diseases still before us if the average man and his leaders of the masses after him, it is still possible in the British Empire to obtain the highest degree in the faculty of arts or law without knowing anything about science. That is the tragedy of education today, when the world is entirely dependent on science."

Steamship Sailings From Britain To Churchill To Start In July
Steamship sailings from the United Kingdom and Antwerp for Churchill will start in July, 1933, according to word received by D. A. Ross, secretary of the board of trade, from Thomas Harling and Sons, steamship agents, Montreal. The first ship will load general cargo in England and European ports for the prairie provinces. The communication states that the rates will be the same from England and Belgium to Churchill, as from overseas ports to Montreal, thus giving prairie buyers a distinct advantage in lesser rail haul.

Agreement Reached At Ottawa Conference May Have Beneficial Effect On Hog Industry In Canada

Since the Ottawa Economic Conference events appear to be steadily moving forward towards making effective the agreements reached there. Principal among the agreements are those affecting livestock and animal products.

The principle adopted by the United Kingdom for the control of her markets for meats is "limitation of imports." This system of limitation of imports is being applied to all the important classes of meats—beef, lamb and mutton; bacon and ham; and certain classes of by-products.

In Canada, more has been said about the agreement as it affects bacon. However, it would appear that the determination by Britain to limit the importations of all meats, is the really big fact to grasp. It is this fact that gives the assignment by the United Kingdom to Canada of 280,000,000 pounds of bacon a meaning and significance.

From the standpoint of the Canadian livestock industry it is important, then, that the agreements, as they apply to all classes of meats, should be known. It would appear that the United Kingdom adopted, at the Conference, the principle of stating to each Dominion what she undertook to do with reference to the export and import of meats in which each Dominion was mostly interested. This, however, does not limit the effect on any particular meat to the Dominion to which the United Kingdom declared her policy. The agreements apply to certain classes of meats, but for some time Britain has had restriction of imports of other classes of meats. These restrictions are mostly based on protection of the health of British livestock.

In practice the restrictions confine imports of live cattle and other meat animals to those from Ireland and Canada. Imports of fresh meats from Europe are embargoed, which practically limits this import trade to the Irish Free State. In the past, then, already limit imports of fresh meats and live animals. Other meats enter Britain as chilled, frozen, or cured. The policy declared by the United Kingdom at Ottawa will limit the importations of these latter classes of meats.

The policy declared by the United Kingdom with regard to livestock and animal products may be summarized thus:

Live Cattle—removal of restrictions on imports of Canadian commercial cattle, in part, on the stock that may be used for breeding.

Chilled and Frozen Beef—regulation of imports from foreign countries on the basis of an agreement reached with Australia.

Frozen Mutton and Lamb—regulation of imports from foreign countries (from Australia and New Zealand for a period) on the basis of an agreement reached with Australia.

Bacon and Hams—declaration of importation of the regulation of importation of bacon and hams and, on the basis of an agreement reached with Canada, to guarantee free entry for up to 2,500,000 wts. per annum of Canadian bacon and hams of good quality (250,000,000 lbs.).

The adoption, by the United Kingdom, of what would appear to be the most momentous policy, was the result of a series of events and conditions. European importing countries and America had steadily been raising barriers of various kinds against the importation of animal products. Great Britain remained the only open market. Therefore, all those countries that had formerly been exporting a part, or the bulk of their products to Britain, and all the exporting countries which had not formerly sent product there in quantity, were forced to concentrate more and more of their surpluses on that market.

In addition, production particularly of bacon and mutton heavily increased.

The collapse of grain prices which gave European bacon producers very cheap feed for hogs in 1930 and 1931 induced large increases in production, not only in the countries that had formerly been supplying the bulk of British imports, but also in the countries that lately had been forced to send their bacon to Britain. Furthermore, the new countries to enter the British bacon market, such as Poland, Estonia, Lithuania, Latvia and Holland; in order to develop the proper kind of hog and establish themselves on the British market adopted various schemes of bounties and subsidies.

Britain's declared policy gives an aspect to the future which devalues the closest study and consideration. Present prices for bacon and hogs are so low as to be extremely discouraging. If the future is to be judged only by present price conditions, there is no prospect; the hog industry in all countries will die. But it is these conditions which led the United Kingdom to determine on the policy which was declared at Ottawa. Apart altogether from that declared policy, present price conditions, viewed in their proper light, are certain indications of better prices in the future.

Under extreme conditions, such as at present, the industries best suited to certain countries always survive. Canada is one of the countries that has the natural conditions for the survival of the hog industry. The policy declared by the Government of the United Kingdom is intended to favor the survival of the hog industry of Canada.

Timber Shortage In Washington and Oregon

British Columbia May Ship Logs To U.S. Sawmills

Log shortage facing lumbermen in Washington and Oregon as the result of the recent loss of a billion feet of Douglas fir by fire in the Columbia River Valley area will aid materially in the stabilizing of the lumber industry in the Pacific northwest in the opinion of leading Vancouver lumbermen.

In British Columbia forest fires caused negligible loss last summer and, with the exception of the blaze which swept the Capilano Timber Co. property on the North Shore, damage was slight.

It is anticipated that with the heavy loss suffered in the two adjoining states there will be a call for supplies from this province, but the success of these attempts will depend largely on the decisions of the official board which controls most log exports from this province.

Seriousness of the situation in Washington and Oregon is stressed in a bulletin just issued by authority of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, which points out that not only log supplies suffered from fire but logging railways and bridges were destroyed, seriously complicating transportation.

An Ugly Men's Club

Association In Perth, West Australia, Does Heinous Deeds

There has been no sign given that the Ugly Men's Association of Perth, West Australia, is going to change the name of the institution. The qualifications for membership which have always been simply the possession of ugliness have not, as far as can be learned, been altered.

No doubt the members go about full of a sort of perverse, boyish pride in the possession of their unimpressive exterior. Of such institutional details one can speak but in whimsical suppositions and fancies, for exact information is lacking. On one point, however, there remains no question. The record of this strange club bears out the old quotation, "Handsome is that handsome does."

This organization, which in 1910 raised 18,000 to teach men carpentry, blacksmithing, and other pursuits, has lately purchased a farm for the training of boys in agriculture. During the next 18 months, says a press dispatch, "the Uglies" hope to train 1,000 boys.

If this is the way ugly men comfort themselves when they organize let us hope that they get together in increasing numbers. What the world needs, in other words, is more ugly men, and then organized. Like that famous ugly man of literature, Cyrano de Bergerac, the members of the Ugly Men's Association undoubtedly carry their adornments in less material molds—Christian Science Monitor.

Disappearing Millions

Drop In Stock Values Left Many In Difficult Position

The surrogate court at Hamilton has just passed upon an estate of $359,043 which three years ago was worth more than a million dollars. The drop in values of stocks and real estate has dissipated two-thirds of this estate and that is the situation affecting virtually every man and woman in the country who had accumulated some resources. They were the people from whom governments obtained generous tax payments. Such resources of public revenue have been dried up by the depreciation in values of securities and real estate. Some people, dependent for a livelihood upon the proceeds of invested money, are left without means of support because of the passing of dividends and there is no way to recover the capital. Such individuals are in as difficult a plight as those who have lost their jobs, and they are quite as helpless to control the conditions that have imposed these privations on them.

No Wills In Olden Times

Testator Only Required To State Wishes Before Witnesses

In the days of our forefathers, there was no need of writing wills at all. The testator said what he had to say before some witnesses and that was all. In India, even that was not necessary. The property was divided according to the testator's wishes and the witnesses of inheritance were asked to swear by touching earth (if a Hindu) or the Koran (if a Mohammedan), or in the presence of parents or elderly members of the family.

Oliver Bright of Tennessee wrote his will on a celluloid cover and it was granted probate and duly executed. There are many instances of queer wills written on insignificant things. The back of a mirror, a road map, a portrait, a railway ticket, cuffs of dress shirts, an egg shell and even the soles of shoes have been used for writing wills dealing with most valuable properties.

Eighty-Eight Concerns Doing Business In Western Provinces

According to a "Report of Fruit and Vegetable Preparations" from the Census of Industry branch at Ottawa, there were 88 concerns in the four western provinces processing fruits and vegetables, including vinegar, in 1931. Sixty-six of these were located in British Columbia; eight in Alberta; four in Saskatchewan and ten in Manitoba. In the whole of Canada there were 165 canning factories, 15 evaporating plants, 46 plants whose principal products are jams, jellies, marmalades, etc., and 52 plants making vinegar, pickles, etc.

New National Park Planned

Two Sites On Vancouver Island Are Being Considered

Establishment of a new national park in British Columbia is being considered by the Canadian and provincial governments, and F. M. Wardie, chief engineer of the federal parks branch, has been on the coast recently laying the groundwork for such a project.

Garibaldi Mountain is favorably regarded as a site for the new park, although the parks branch is said to be eager to establish a sea level park to complete its trans-Canada parks system. For the latter purpose a park site on the west coast of Vancouver Island is being considered. The only other national park on Vancouver Island is Strathcona, which, however, is mountainous and somewhat inaccessible.

Colonel W. W. Foster, member of the Mount Logan expedition of several years ago and one of the best known mountaineers in Canada, has completed a report on the Garibaldi project and this has been sent to Ottawa.

Canadian Poultry For Britain

New Methods Whereby Poultry May Be Profitably Shipped

Methods whereby Canadian poultry may be put in the United Kingdom market have been under discussion for some time. Hon. H. H. Stevens, informed the House of Commons.

Mr. Stevens was asked by Thomas Hay (Cons., Springfield), to confirm a western news despatch to the effect an order for 1,000,000 pounds of poultry had been given to the Canadian government by the government of the United Kingdom.

He was not in a position to confirm details of the transaction, the minister replied.

United States Rigidly Enforcing Restrictions

Immigration Figures For 1932 Are Lowest On Record

Only 824 Canadians were admitted to the United States as immigrants in August, against 1,108 in August, 1931, the labor department's last monthly report shows. In the period 1926 to 1930 Canadian immigration to this country in August averaged 7,000.

Restrictions on the influx of people are being enforced even more severely than in 1931 when the number admitted was the smallest in a century. Only 2,719 from all countries passed the gates last August, as compared with 4,090 in August, 1931, and an August average of 24,000 for the years 1926 to 1930. Indications are that for 1932 aggregate immigration will not reach 25,000, which would be the lowest figure on record.

Last August, 8,783 persons who had established domicile in the U.S. left to live permanently elsewhere. "The exodus of alien residents," says the report, "now exceeds the new arrivals by over three to one."

Chief Of Dairy Division Appointment Of Dr. H. A. Derby Has Been Announced

Western dairy men will be interested in the appointment of H. A. Derby, of Toronto, B.S.A., M.A., and Ph.D., as chief of the dairy division, Ottawa, a position left vacant by promotion of Frank Singleton, dairy commissioner.

Dr. Derby is only 34 years of age, but has made a rather unusual record for so young a man. He first graduated from the eastern dairy school at Kingston in 1915; he took his B.S.A. from Guelph in 1923 and between 1927 and 1931 won his master's and later his doctor's degree at Ames, Iowa, where he was employed on the staff while doing his post graduate work.

In the years 1920 and 1921 he was in charge of creameries at Calgary and Medicine Hat and earlier in his career operated a cheese factory in eastern Canada.—E. Cora Hind.

Distinctive Canadian Formula Is Now Used For Extraction Of Radium From Western Ores

How Cancer Begins

Everyone Should Know the Symptoms and Receive Early Treatment

Cancer never begins as cancer, Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, cancer research worker of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, told the Ottawa Medical-Chirurgical Society.

"It begins as a single spot," he said, "and the normal cells of that spot are changed to abnormal cells, which are not cancer cells."

Chronic irritation, injury or pre-existing lumps such as warts or moles and unhealed wounds anywhere are the site in which cancer develops, the doctor continued.

He stressed it was important that everyone should know the symptoms, signs of little things that are not cancer but which may become cancer and the earliest stages of cancer are identical.

"On this fundamental advice rests the action of having an immediate examination after the first warning," he declared.

Dr. Bloodgood told his audience women suffering from early detected cancer of the breast run no more than a 25 per cent. risk that attempts to cure them will fail, while those who delay examination through ignorance reduce their chances of cure to 10 per cent. or less.

A semi-annual examination of mothers, he said, would permit detection of spots in the cervix which are not cancer but which may become cancer or are the earliest stages of cancer. Radium treatment could then be used to cure a large percentage of the cases.

Under present conditions, he declared, most mothers seeking examination for cancer of the cervix had the disease in such an advanced stage that there was no more than a 10 per cent. chance of cure.

A Prosperous Town

Full-Time Job For Every Man In Corbin, B.C.

Which is the most prosperous town in Canada.

According to Thomas Uphill, labor member for Fernie, B.C., the nomination should go to Corbin, B.C. Every man in the town has a full-time job. Corbin is a coal mine town, and although the mine employs only 300, there are more than 100 automobiles.

The town incidentally is the only place in British Columbia where not a dollar of unemployment relief money has so far been spent.

But just a few miles away, at Fernie, B.C., is one of the poorest towns in the province from an economic standpoint, according to Uphill. The city is unable to meet its one-third share of unemployment relief; already it is far in arrears.

Mr. Uphill created a sensation at the last session of the legislature by proposing that the government should raise money by selling titles. Wealthy men would be eager to pay a stated sum for a provincial knighthood, he said.

U.S. Farm Population

Many Return To The Land As Result Of Hard Times

Hard times have resulted in a trek "back to the land" in the United States, statistics issued by the Department of Agriculture reveal. Present farm population of the country is estimated at 32,000,000, an increase of about 2,000,000 in the last year.

Farm population in the United States reached a peak in 1910, the department says, when it was 32,077,000. Thereafter it steadily declined for twenty years as country families moved into the towns to share the profits of the long industrial boom. United States citizens living on the land numbered 31,570,000 in 1920 and 30,069,000 at the start of 1930. The three-year depression has driven nearly two million people back to rural life, so that farm population now approaches its 1910 high point.

Sounding Creek section sheet just published by the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, shows a considerable length of the creek from which it is named.

A distinctive Canadian formula for the extraction of radium from the pitchblende ore found at Great Bear Lake, Northwest Territories, has been developed by scientists of the Canadian Government Department of Mines, according to a statement just issued by Hon. Wesley A. Gorman, Minister of Mines. The new formula is the result of more than a year's intensive research work by chemists of the Department of Mines.

The Canadian process, according to Mr. Gorman, will permit as great, if not greater, percentage of recovery, involving a shorter time and less complicated operations than any of the known methods. Canada will, it is expected, now be able to supply not only her own radium needs for therapeutic, scientific and commercial purposes, but will be able to enter world markets.

Partly on account of the high-grade character of the Canadian ores and partly because of the shorter time and simplified method of the new process, it is believed that the costs of reduction will be considerably less than under other methods of extraction. Hydrochloric acid is used as a solvent in the new method instead of the usual sulphuric acid and a large number of stages formerly considered necessary have been eliminated. Instead of about forty operations, supposed to be used in other countries, radium salts have been produced in the laboratory of the Canadian Government Department of Mines with less than half that number of steps. The chief cost in radium reduction lies in cost of chemicals, about three tons being required for the treatment of every ton of ore. The new process has been adapted to treat with almost equal success both siliceous ore and the silver carbonate ore with which pitchblende is found associated in the Great Bear Lake field.

About 4,600 grams of radium-bearing concentrates have been extracted in the experimental work. The yield worked out at one gram of radium from ten tons of pitchblende from the Great Bear Lake ore. A radium refinery is to be established at Port Hope, Ontario, where the ore will be taken for the extraction of radium and by-products, such as uranium, lead and silver.

Under present conditions, he declared, most mothers seeking examination for cancer of the cervix had the disease in such an advanced stage that there was no more than a 10 per cent. chance of cure.

STILLS ON THE FARM

An alcohol still on every farm would go a long way toward lifting agriculture out of the doldrums. Judge Calvin Stewart, of Wisconsin, thinks. In a letter to President-elect Roosevelt he suggests that farmers be allowed to use up their surplus grain to make alcohol for industrial purposes.

Home distilling ought to boost copper prices, too. There are 6,600,000 farms in the United States, and to equip each with a still should keep factories busy for a year.

Judge Stewart's idea is admittedly brilliant. All that is wanted now is the industry to supply industrial alcohol with.

A large number of his friends in Lacombe gathered on Tuesday night and presented Charlie Bristow with a lovely leather travelling bag. Mr. Bristow, who formerly managed the Distillers limited Warehouse here, was transferred to Vegreville, and it was on the eve of his departure there that the presentation was made. The presentation was made by Mr. E. C. Chapman, who in a few well chosen words expressed the regret of Mr. Bristow's many friends at his leaving Lacombe. A most appropriate address was made by Mr. A. T. Inskip, in expressing his deep regret at the departure from Lacombe of Mr. Bristow. Mr. Hal Laird, Mr. Penman and others spoke a few words.

In the initial game of the Big 6 Hockey League, Stettler defeated the local team by a score of 4 to 2. Although soft ice hampered the playing to quite an extent, a good game was played. In the main, individual efforts were the rule, as soft ice with the resultant cutting up made combination play practically impossible.

The opening period started off fast with Stettler forcing the play, and it was not long before they got one past our goal minder. After several minutes of play, Stettler registered another goal and the period ended 2 to 0 in Stettler's favor.

In the second frame honors were even, Penman for Lacombe going through unassisted to get one past Charlesworth, the Stettler goalie. Stettler duplicated Penman's effort soon afterwards ending the second period 3 to 1.

Entering the final stanza with Stettler having a 2 goal lead, the Lacombe team put everything they had into the fray, but it seemed as if they were simply playing against luck, and no matter how often they banged one at Charlesworth, he seemed somehow to get in front of it.

In this period, George Brooks got through for a counter, which was duplicated by Stettler and the game ended 4 to 2.

With two of the best dance orchestras in Central Alberta there, etc., is assured a good time. These two orchestras, The Star Orchestra and Bob Paulsen and his band have kindly donated their services, and will keep the dance going without a break until the early hours of the morning.
